FIG. 8

FIG. 8 illustrates a user interface element, likely a table or list view, within a window 240. The table has a header row with a dropdown menu 820 labeled "Category". The table contains five rows of data, each representing an image and its associated category and size. A small icon 810 is visible next to the "10K" size value for Image4. The table is bordered by a solid line, and a dashed line is visible at the bottom center.
